

Chaperone Agreement

We are excited to have your group visit the Tucson Military Vehicle Museum. During your visit, you will enjoy a guided visit and see over 70 military vehicles from WWI through the modern day. As a chaperone at the Tucson Military Vehicle Museum, you are responsible for monitoring student behavior while on museum property. Please make sure you monitor your students for desert conditions including heat, dehydration, animals, and uneven grounds. While we want you to enjoy your visit, please understand that your priority is to ensure the students in your group act safely and respectfully during their visit. Failure to do so will result in your group being asked to leave the museum or not receiving free/discounted admission for future visits.

Chaperone Guidelines:

- Keep all students in your assigned group within your sight and hearing at ALL times.
  - All students will participate in the guided visit at one time.
  - At no time may a group explore the museum on their own.
- While the group organizer is completing check-in procedures with a member of staff, the accompanying chaperones should organize students into their respective groups.
- Intervene if the student is being unsafe, causing damage to museum property, or disturbing other guests.
- Alert museum staff immediately if damage occurs.
- Monitor your group of students inside the Museum Store. Please understand we limit the number of students in the store to 12.
- Monitor your group of students inside the cafe and be present at the food area when students are purchasing/selecting food.
- Monitor student behaviors in the restrooms and to and from the restrooms.
- Do not allow your students to run or yell in the hangar.
- Do not allow your students to climb on vehicles/exhibits.
- Do not allow your students to throw/drop items off the 2nd-floor balconies.
